Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 25 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Becoming brighter with sunny spells developing. Breezy.

Today:
Rather cloudy start for many with patchy rain. However, brighter conditions over the Outer Hebrides edge southeast to leave a largely dry afternoon with sunny spells, the best of these in the west. Occasionally strong, cool northerly winds easing. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Mainly dry with some late sunny then clear spells overnight, although cloudier at times towards the Great Glen with a few spots of rain. Winds continue to ease. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Saturday:
Rather cloudy towards the Great Glen, especially through the morning, but generally another bright day with some sunny spells. Feeling a little warmer with mainly light winds. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Plenty of dry, increasingly warm, weather with sunny spells through the coming days, although the far northwest cloudier with a few spots of rain at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.